A MESSAGE FROM THE MINISTER

What if Jesus was never born? What if God did not love the world so much that he was prepared to give up his Son?

Well, Anel and I would then most likely not have had the privilege to be on this encouraging journey of getting to know the wonderful people of St. Enoch's. We would not have been building our relationships. Together we would not have been on this exciting mission to be the Church of Jesus Christ in Tauranga. We are a Christ-community in the community for the community, building our relationship with our community and serving our community. There would not have been a New Testament – think of all the comfort, encouragement, hope and life we draw from the New Testament. We would not have known God as well as we do now, because Jesus Christ revealed God to us in an intimate and special way. But most important of all: We would have been lost! We would not have had a relationship with God. "Long ago God spoke many times and in many ways to our ancestors through the prophets. And now in these final days, He has spoken to us through His Son. God promised everything to the Son as an inheritance, and through the Son He created the universe. The Son radiates God's own glory and expresses the very character of God, and He sustains everything by the mighty power of His command. When He had cleansed us from our sins, He sat down in the place of honour at the right hand of the majestic God in heaven."
(Hebrews 1:1-3 New Living Translation)

This Christmas we celebrate God's love for us – each of us. We celebrate the wonder that Jesus Christ was willing to become human and serve a bunch of undeserving human beings to the ultimate point of the cross. We celebrate the healing, restoration, second chances, hope and joy Jesus brought us. We gratefully accept that God took the initiative to engage with each of us by making himself vulnerable and putting our need of salvation ahead of his self-preservation. Christmas is a celebration of the fact that God is with us and that we are part of God's family.

Relationships are important over Christmas. Let's take good care of each other and our families over the festive season and be aware of each other's needs. Find a way to share God's love with someone who are struggling in whatever way. Take time to reflect on your relationship with Jesus Christ.

Anel and I wish you a joyous, special, exciting and blessed Advent and Christmas.

Blessings
Jaco

Message from the Moderator

 Presbyterian Church of Aotearoa New Zealand

The body of Christ at work is most vivid and incredible in a gathering of people of one accord. What a privilege and an honour it was to witness and experience first-hand our Church family on song at General Assembly 2018.

Folk were talking to each other, sharing meals, catching up with old acquaintances and making new contacts. I heard many languages in prayers. People spoke in Psalms and songs of grace to each other. Young and old, male and female - there was a sense of unity, oneness, warmth and respect.

For me it was Christianity at its best. The Lord Jesus Christ was at His rightful place - the head of the Church. Praise and glory belongs to our God.

Returning to my local church, Onehunga Co-operating Parish, a reality awaited us. The passing of loved ones brings a solemn check on life. Mama Ayalau, Rev Ned Ripley, Daphne Douglas and Tama Fama Pili.

People whose lives are intermingled with yours captivate you at their passing. You actually stop everything, life and plans, to attend, to lead, to preach, to counsel, and to be comforted yourself. It has the same effect on us all.

I take a deep breath - couple actually - and move slowly, continuously and carefully, and consider what the experience of General Assembly was all about. For me, it was a mountain top experience with God, and with all who gathered at St. Andrews. I felt that we experienced the breath of God, filling our beings with the word.

It was warm and gentle, yet compelling and affirming. It was love in action. It was for me, Jesus' words coming alive in our relationship with God, and in our relationships with each other. The Lord reminding us all. "I am the way, the truth and the life". I felt blessed, I felt the power and guidance of the Holy Spirit. I felt the love of Christ Jesus. I felt the presence of God, nodding at His Church, and in my three - year old grandson Kalos' constant comment.

"Good boy, Papa"

It was a wonderful and inspiring experience for myself and for my family. I hope you felt something special and meaningful for yourself, and for the Church.

SESSION REPORT

Very exciting times in the life of St Enoch's over the past month!

First, Jim and Laurelle's farewell - hope you all read the article in the Bay Sun "Do your goodbyes properly" by Father Mark Field – priest of the Catholic Parish of Tauranga Moana who attended Jim and Laurelle's farewell. And I quote "Goodbyes are a part of life." And the best advice he ever received was to "Do your goodbyes well". And both he and I felt that we had done exactly that for Jim and Laurelle, acknowledging how loved and respected they were in the community especially at St Enoch's.

Following on from this, was to welcome our new minister Rev. Dr. Jaco Reyneke and his wife Anel and their children. This too we "did well" with all the pomp and ceremony that Presbytery do to induct a new minister into a parish. This was followed by a lavish supper. Jaco expressed his appreciation for the warmth of the welcome. We look forward to the way in which he will lead us into the future, especially, if after his first Sunday service, when he preached on 1 Corinthians 13 – LOVE - is anything to go by. Do come and be part of it.

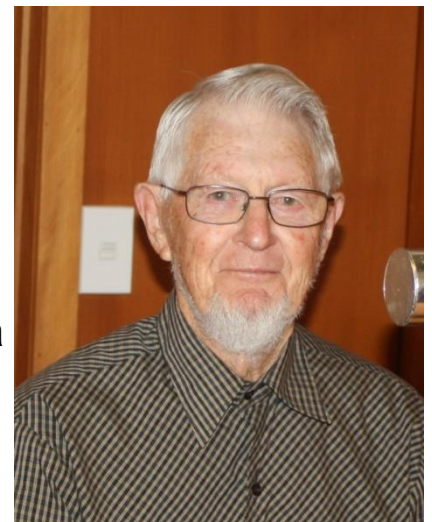

Christmas blessings to all

Iris Stockwell.

THANK YOU JOHN

After 27 years John Brabyn has made the difficult decision to retire from being the Church musician. We have all loved your playing John and would like to say a huge thank you for all the many hours of beautiful music you have given us over the years. It takes a lot of practice to be as good as John is and he would often be in the Church several days a week's just practicing for the Sunday service – true dedication.

Enjoy your retirement John – you deserve it.

CHRISTMAS

LAURELLE

This is the final prayer told by Jim on 7th October at his final service.
A fitting end from Jim whose sense of humour was a big part of why we all loved him

17th Century Nun's Prayer

Lord, Thou knowest better than I know myself that I am growing older and will someday be old.

Keep me from the fatal habit of thinking I must say something on every subject and on every occasion.

Release me from craving to straighten out somebody's affairs.
Make me thoughtful, but no moody, helpful but not bossy.

With my vast store of wisdom, it seems a pity not to use it all, but Thou knowest, Lord, that I want a few friends at the end.

Keep my mind free from the recital of endless details; give me wings to get to the point.

Seal my lips upon my aches and pains. They are increasing, and the love of rehearsing them is becoming sweeter as the years go by.

I dare not ask for improved memory, but for a growing humility and lessening cocksureness when my memory seems to clash with the memory of others.

Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally I may be mistaken.

Keep me reasonably sweet; I do not want to be a saint – some of them are so hard to live with – but a sour old person is one of the crowning works of the devil.

Give me the ability to see good things in unexpected places, and talents in unexpected people.

And give me, Lord, the grace to tell them so.

Rev Jim Wallace – Ministry at St Enoch's

After several years of declining numbers attending worship at St Enoch's and sadly depleted finances in 2010 Presbytery appointed Jim Wallace to be moderator for the re-settlement board at St Enoch's.

The board considered a few names suggested to become the fulltime minister and after several meetings and much discussion it was learnt that Jim Wallace could be interested in filling the vacancy. Jim was duly inducted as the minister early 2011.

From the first day it became obvious that Jim had boundless energy and with much encouragement from his wife Laurelle, he quickly grasped the urgent needs of the congregation as well as the material needs of the buildings. His ability to visit numerous parishioners almost daily, combined with meetings of session and managers as well as hospital visiting was soon very evident. The attendance and interest in the worship services and activities at St Enoch's became increasingly well attended. The appearance of younger families and the regular Sunday school for the children was a breath of 'fresh air' for St Enoch's.

Finances began to improve, the need to modernise the old hall as well as general maintenance of church and manse also benefited from Jim's energetic participation in all aspects of the needs of the church and people.

Jim frequently joined the group of voluntary workers who spent every Saturday morning resurrecting the old hall to the modern looking, very usable building it is today.

The addition of an intern in 2015 under Jim's guidance was a major step forward in Christian faith.

Jim left in October 2018 for a well-earned retirement and left St Enoch's a much strengthened community of Christians than it was previously. He will be missed.

We are better for his time with us.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Recently I was led to the small book that concludes the Old Testament, with its message to the errant Israel by a programme on the Hope Channel on Sky.

The book is God's message as given through Malachi; written after the return of Israel from the Babylonian exile after the temple was rebuilt and worship re-established.

Malachai evaluated the spiritual status of God's people, pointing out where they needed to improve their attitudes while assuring them of the unfailing love and guidance of Almighty God.

One of the areas Malachai touched on was Israel's Covenant breaking by the withholding of Tithes.

Chapter 3:v6 "I the Lord do not change, so you, the descendants of Jacob, are not destroyed. Ever since the time of your ancestors you have turned away from my decrees and have not kept them. 'Return to me, and I will return to you' says the Lord Almighty.

But you ask, "how are we to return?" Will a mere mortal rob God? Yet you rob me. But you ask, "how are we robbing you?"

"In tithes and free-will offerings. You are under a curse - your whole nation - because you are robbing me. Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house. Test me in this says the Lord Almighty" and see if I will not throw open the flood gates of heaven and pour out so much blessing that there will be not enough room to store it--"

The Pastor who was leading the programme said that God had told him that today the issue was with the free-will offering where people were losing sight of how God used His blessings in getting His will actioned for the good of the people.

Remember how your giving can be multiplied by joining of many gifts together, how in some giving schemes the government or other body extends the power of your gift 2 fold, 3 fold,. At St Enoch's if you put your donation in your numbered offering envelope it will be added to your total for your tax return where the IRD returns you a third of your annual donation total. Then you can use that to make further mission donations,

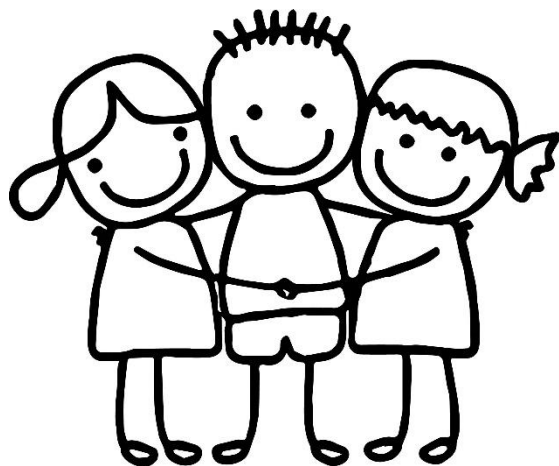

Remember that the mission of the church is not only the passion of the 'Good News', but meeting the needs of the people so that God's will may be given more power by the action of your giving however much that may be.

At St. Enoch's, Communion Sunday is the day that your free-will offering gathers power, and your gift needs preparation if it is to be effective in God's work. Be prepared at our next Communion Sunday to enable God to bless us to the extent He desires too, by us being ready to meet the call for our free-will offering, our Mission Offering.

Blessings
Barrie Herring

GIFT OF FRIENDSHIP

When you ask God for a gift, be thankful if He sends not diamonds, pearls, and riches - but the love of real true friends

WHITE SUNDAY

Keep a smile in mind as you embrace the Christmas Season

A smile is infectious,
you can catch it like the flu,
When someone smiled at me today,
I started smiling too.
I passed around the corner,
and someone saw my grin.
When he smiled I realised
I'd passed it on to him.
I thought about the smile
and then realised it's worth,
A single smile like mine could travel around the earth.
If you feel a smile begin,
don't leave it undetected.
Lets start an epidemic quick and get the world infected.

So lets smile!!

William Gray Memorial Church

On a picture perfect Saturday afternoon the 1st of October 2016 on Tanna Island (Vanuatu) I had the privilege to lead the Waisisi Presbyterian congregation in worship. We gathered in the ruins of the William Gray Memorial Church, covered with blue tarpaulins. The surroundings did not seem to impact on the deep-felt worship, expression of their faith and the hospitality shown. God whispered into my heart that the rebuilding of this church in Waisisi (meaning 'The Way is Easy') will bring hope, encourage faith, will be an example of the Body of Christ caring for each other, and have significant missional value, while I was standing in front of the brothers and sisters you can see in the photo.

Under the leadership of Rev Kenneth Calvert the church was built in 1974 by volunteers of the New Hebrides Missionary Association from New Zealand.

In the wake of cyclone Pam (March 2015) only three of the church's walls and a few beams remained intact. The congregation faithfully continued to serve the Lord. As this place of worship has great significance, they have been praying and working to restore or replace the church. At that stage, this financially poor community has managed to save enough to buy 10 lengths of roof iron. This is remarkable seeing most members of the community lead a subsistence life and was still working hard to restore their food gardens after the devastating storm.

Neville Jones (PCANZ Global Mission Project Manager in Vanuatu), in consultation with the community, costed the rebuilding of the church at NZ$36,500.00. I saw the enthusiastic endorsement of the project by the Global Mission office and the Kaimai Presbytery as God's confirmation and I started to raise funds.

God's blessings upon the building project in Waisisi through the generosity of many people, churches and Presbyteries, were amazing. Donations came from individuals, congregations (including St. Enoch's), the Matama Mission in Motion group and even from as far afield as the Evangelical Presbyterian Church in the USA. Every dollar was going to encourage the faith of a small congregation who has been praying for a long time that God may restore their beloved William Gray Memorial Church. A very generous donation from Cambridge Union Church stirred deep emotions and gratitude for God's goodness through his people.

The Waisisi community was hugely encouraged by the support of their brothers and sisters in New Zealand and they enthusiastically started the rebuild towards the end of last year, after huge ground works was done manually. There was no labour cost as the local people volunteered their time and expertise to build the church. People in the community with building experience gained in Vanuatu, Australia and New Zealand took the lead and the whole community got behind the project. All the blocks were made using sand from the beach hauled up the hill in bags, and the two moulds that were available. Everything done manually. Great care was taken to strengthen the structure as much as possible to withstand the next big cyclone. The effect of acid rain created by the active volcano, Mount Yasur (about 15km away), had to be taken into consideration as well.

The process was not straight forward or easy.

Neville Jones ordered and bought material in Port Vila after receiving the list from the builders. When possible, the material was shipped to the Tanna 'port'. I guess it would be about a ten-hour sailing. From there local 'trucks' transported the material across the island to Waisisi. In March 2018 Cyclone Hola damaged the road down to Waisisi and everything had to be carried down to the site for about a month.

It was a great privilege to spend the first week of July with the community of Waisisi. The generous and warm way in which we were welcomed into the community was inspirational. The way in which everybody engaged with the build blew me away!

One of the many people from the community who helped build the church, told me: "When people ask us: 'How are you able to build such a big church?', we answer them: 'God is doing it.'" And that is true. God orchestrated the project and used many people and churches to uplift, enthuse and inspire the very isolated community of Waisisi. The project did not only enable them to build themselves a church, but gave them hope, strengthened their faith, was a strong witness to those without a relationship with Jesus Christ, and enabled new imaginings of growth and making a difference in their community.

The church was commissioned on the 25th of August 2018 before the Presbyterian Church of Vanuatu's General Assembly started on the 26th just up the hill from Waisisi.

Jonah Robert writes: "On behalf of Moderator and the Congregation of Waisisi Presbyterian Church, we greet you all Master's greetings. We want to share our deepest heart of appreciation, for what you have done for us. We thank God Almighty for the seeds planted in your heart, Rev, and also extended to other hearts, for the financial assistance to supporting the New Church building, 10m x 20m. We have nothing to give in return but our sincere prayer that God will double portion you his blessing from heaven above. Once again, a million thanks for supporting us, in one way, or the other. Before we end, we also wanted if we continue our relationship between both of us, strong in future to come."

The congregation has already established a committee whose task it is to work towards putting in a ceiling and maintaining the building.

SPIRITUAL GROWTH GROUP

This group continues to meet and attempt new and old spiritual disciplines in our endeavour to deepen our walk with Jesus. Recent practices have been Bible Study, Compassion, Unity and Gratitude. It has not been easy having 2 different meeting days in the month but this is resolving itself now John Baxendine is free on a Thursday afternoon.

However, we will have our final meetings this month but do check us out as we would love to have more participants next year and times could change to suit needs. Any inquiries, please ring Joan Bryant (544 1669).

Thanks

Joan Bryant

TUESDAY HOME GROUP

We continue to meet on the 2nd and 4th Tuesdays of each month and have now covered 16 chapters in our journey through the Book of Acts, at the rate of about one chapter per session which is a good solid study session each time and quite a challenge! We continue to discover how applicable many of its lessons are applicable to us today as we seek to live the gospel in the 21st century. There have been a few changes in the group with Margaret Harris moving to Whakatane to live, and Ava Gore no longer being able to host us because of ongoing health issues. Thanks Ava for being such a gracious host since the group's inception, and we hope to still see you from time to time! We are now meeting at the home of Joan Inglis (thanks Joan!) sometimes a little distracted by the beautiful view from her lounge over the Welcome Bay estuary! Thanks also to Ruth West for being our pianist and compiling a song sheet for us which we will be using alongside the church hymnals we already use.

We have room for a few more folk in the group at the moment, so if you think you'd like to check us out and join us on our journey through Acts - have a chat with me.

GIVING

*Christmas is a season of giving
And giving is the key to living.
So let us give ourselves away,
Not just at Christmas but every day
And remember a kind and thoughtful deed
Or a hand outstretched in time of need
Is the rarest of gifts, for it is a part
Not of the purse, but a loving heart.
And he who gives of himself will find
True joy of heart and peace of mind.*

PASTORAL CARE REPORT

There have been quite a number of operations and sicknesses since I last wrote a report and it is lovely to see and hear of your care for each other. This is what St Enoch's is about – caring for one another and supporting each other.

I wish to thank Beryl for all her input over past years, into the Prayer chain and the distribution of the Manawa. You have been a real blessing to St Enoch's, Beryl.

I have a prayer chain in action now – although there are only a few pray-ers on the list. If you can spare some time to pray for those who specifically ask for prayer please email me on bandgwalker@slingshot.co.nz or phone on 5442179 or 0273163510.

Please be sure to ask permission from the person before submitting their name and/or situation. Those on the chain are not to share this information outside the prayer chain. I will only call or email you when requests come in to me.

Let us work together for the whole family of God to build people up, encourage them and assist them in their daily living.

A big thank you to the organisers and distributors of the Manawa, a job well done.

Blessings
Gail Walker

BOARD OF MANAGERS Aug - Oct 2018

A seismic assessment has now been carried out, and thankfully the church and lounge building has passed. (The hall was already up to standard.)

The new carpet squares and vinyl have now been laid in the lounge and lounge kitchen and have made a great difference to their look.

A successful mid-winter concert was held in August, thanks again to Andrew Pound for organising this.

A big vote of thanks to Iris Stockwell for all her work in clearing out the tower prior to Jaco Reyneke's arrival – culling any papers no longer relevant, and sorting all the others, some to be archived in Dunedin.

After another very worthwhile "Month of Sundays" culminating in Jim's "God and the Expanse", Richard Wilson made available recordings of these lectures and accompanying power points on USB sticks for $30.00 each. This enterprise resulted in a profit of $699. Well done and thank you, Richard!

Phil Green (H G Rose Architecture) met with the BOM in October to discuss options for the north window. Our original thought had been to go with replacement with aluminium joinery, but Phil strongly advised to go with wooden joinery (tantalised pine) as this was much cheaper ($15,400 as against $25,465.) and would be in keeping with the style of the church. This wooden option is what the BOM has agreed to.

Jim and Laurelle Wallace were farewelled at a moving afternoon tea on October 7th - their last Sunday with us.

Although Jaco Reyneke's induction to St Enoch's was not until October 18th, he was happy to work with Peka Tautali to organise "White Sunday" on 14th – a great occasion!

Jaco was duly inducted and his first service was held on October 21st and was warmly received. We look forward to working and worshipping with Jaco and Anel in the years to come.

Dear Friends

Crossing the Great Divide...

As our first year in Tanzania draws to an end, we have been reflecting on what we have learnt. After a lifetime of being on one side of the sender/sent divide, it has been an amazing experience being here. We had never fully appreciated the importance of what the sending church does! Somewhere in our psyche there lurked a guilt that it was not us “out there doing it”. Surely it was just a cop-out for us to give a bit of money, pray as requested, and send the occasional greeting? After all, the missionaries were the ones doing the real work.

Now, after 11 months on the field, we understand how much that support means, and how God uses all that we offer to bring about His plans and purposes. We have felt truly supported in so many ways, as you have kept in touch through various media, sent us your assurances that you continue to pray for our work here, and allowed us glimpses into your own lives – just to remind us of how different life is in NZ! Our financial situation has enabled us to help those in need around us with housing and medical needs, and we are so grateful for your ongoing generosity.

Thank you! Thank you! Thank you!

HAVE A GO

The group was sad to say goodbye to Jim and wished him and Laurelle the very best in his retirement. After joining St Enoch's as our minister we are enjoying Jaco joining the group on Wednesday mornings for morning tea and a time to get to know everyone.

We wish everyone a blessed Christmas as we celebrate Jesus birth, also we hope everyone has a wonderful 2019 year. The final day for the group this year is December 12th when everyone is welcome to join us (we will have a small gift exchange – value under $5 please). We will commence the new year on Wednesday January 9th.

Knitting commences for premature babies and “Operation Cover Up” with lovely warm blankets being distributed before the very cold winter weather.

The sales stall is very popular with lovely fresh flowers, garden cuttings and citrus fruit.

ST ENOCH'S 2018 CHRISTMAS OUTREACH

We acknowledge with so many needy causes in the world it is always hard trying to decide which to support. Previous years we chose Christian World Service, but having seen on television the devastation hurricanes, storms and earthquakes have caused this year wrecking people's lives for a very long time, our choice this year is Tear Fund. So as you go into "Christmas" mode and you are considering the presents to buy family and friends please give our mission outreach serious consideration. We really do live in a very safe and beautiful part of the world. Christmas blessing to each and everyone.

Blessings Iris.

Tearfund's 'Room at the Inn' Christmas Appeal for Syrian refugees

Under the stars in the Middle East, a mother and father carry their son as they flee to a new land to escape persecution.

It sounds so much like the Christmas story. But this family is making the journey right now, desperately trying to survive by fleeing Syria. And there are millions more just like them.

Mary and Joseph once fled to Egypt as refugees; they would have been looking for someone to help them. In the gospel of Matthew, Jesus tells us: "Truly I tell you, whatever you do for the least of these, you do for me" Help a refugee family this Christmas by donating to Tearfund's Room at the Inn Appeal. This will be our December Mission Offering on 2nd December so please give generously
